

HUSBAND'S ROLE IN THE PROGRAM OF CHILDBIRTH PLANNING
AND COMPLICATION PREVENTION (P4K) ON THE EXPECTANT
MOTHER AT THE WORK AREA OF PUSKESMAS PLERET, BANTUL, YOGYAKARTA

Ika Kumala Dewi¹, Ekawati²

¹ Student of Diploma III Midwifery School of Health of A.Yani Yogyakarta

² Lecturer School of Health of A.Yani Yogyakarta

ABSTRACT

Background: the program of childbirth planning and complication prevention by assembling sticker can accelerate reducing of mother and neonates mortality rates. Mother mortality rate in 2009 had achieved rate 104/100.000 live birth. The rate is one of the best but still far left in the South East Asia level, number of mother mortality rate in DIY is 33 people, with details of Kulon Progo as many 10 mothers (30,3%), Bantul 10 mothers (30,3%), Gunung Kidul 5 mothers (15,2%), Sleman 5 mothers (15,2%), and Yogyakarta as many 3 mothers (9,0%). Result of preface study that was did in February 22th 2014 by doing interview with 10 husbands, as many 8 people said did not know about benefit and form of P4K and 2 people said had known form and activity of P4K.

Objective: to find out husband's role in the program of childbirth planning and complication prevention (P4K) on the expectant mother at the work area of Puskesmas Pleret, Bantul, Yogyakarta.

Method: research design used descriptive method with main goal to make description about a condition objectively. Measurement tool that was used is questionnaire. The research was conducted on July 18th – 23th 2014. Sampling technique is by total sampling with number of sample in the research is 65 people.

Result: from 56 respondent, 27 people (48,2%) have good role, 24 people (42,9%), have enough role, and 5 people (8,9%) have less role.

Conclusion: husband's role in the program of childbirth planning and complication prevention (P4K) includes into category good with number 27 people (48,2%).

Keywords: husband's role, the program of childbirth planning and complication prevention (P4K)